In response to a question, Mr. Salinas expressed the opinion “there’s ... always ... room for improved communication” between various art and culture groups in Carson City. “... what we have currently is to be expected being that there hasn’t been someone full time to corral everyone towards a common goal.” Mr. Salinas advised that his “door is always open,” and provided an overview of discussions he’s had with various art and culture group representatives. Mayor Crowell commended Mr. Salinas on “immersing [himself] in the community and the local art scene.” Supervisor Bonkowski suggested considering a public / private partnership to reinstall the service organization signs at the community gateways.

Subsection 7.13.100, Dangerous / Vicious, Ms. Yowell advised that the proposed new language conforms to NRS 202.500. She clarified that the NRS definition does not include “the animal on animal, so we did expand that here. But, other than that, it’s almost identical.” Supervisor Barrette discussed concerns regarding the definition of “provocation” and regarding the proposed language under Subsection 7.13.100. Ms. Yowell expressed understanding for Supervisor Barrette’s concern, and clarified that “the behavior has to be linked to substantial bodily harm. So it’s not just a dog barking. ... if a dog is lunging at a person repeatedly, it’s really one more step for it to bite the person.” Discussion followed.

(9:38:55) Animal Services Director Arthur Westbrook expressed understanding for Supervisor Barrette’s concerns. “It’s ... two times in 18 months. It’s not natural for a dog to show aggression towards other animals or to chase people, things like that. And, what I’m finding now, having been in this position for the past couple months, is we get a lot of citizen complaints because we can’t do anything. We’ve had dogs attack other dogs. We can issue them a citation but that’s about it and, eventually, ... something has to happen with these dogs. It’s not ... somebody saying, ‘Oh, I think it’s aggressive.’ ... we have behavioral evaluations. We look at everything. We have our officers who are trained in dog behavior to understand aggression and things like that.”

Ms. Yowell acknowledged having reviewed NRS 202.500 with Supervisor Barrette, and discussion followed. Mayor Crowell entertained public comment and, when none was forthcoming, additional Board member questions or comments. When no additional questions or comments were forthcoming, Mayor Crowell entertained a motion. Supervisor Bagwell moved to adopt Bill No. 106, on second reading, Ordinance No. 2017-5, an ordinance amending Title 7, Animals, Chapter 7.13, Licensing and Regulations, as published on the agenda. Supervisor Bonkowski disclosed that his partner, Andie Wilson, is Board President of the Boys and Girls Clubs of Western Nevada, a CDBG applicant. "... as long as nobody on the Board makes a recommendation or chooses to discuss changing the allocations, then I will participate and vote on this. If anybody wants to discuss changing the allocated amounts then, at that point, I would have to recuse myself and I will not vote on this item." Supervisor Barrette disclosed that his wife is the State Administrator of the CDBG Program, "but she won't benefit and neither will I." In response to a question, Ms. Fralick clarified "this is a recommendation for the Department of Housing and Urban Development. You've already made your line item ... decisions on the ... funding."

22. INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY DEPARTMENT

22(A) PRESENTATION OF THE IT STRATEGIC PLAN (10:03:14) - Mayor Crowell introduced this item, and Chief Information Officer Eric Von Schimmelfmann narrated a presentation of the subject plan, which was displayed in the meeting room and included in the agenda materials. Mr. Von Schimmelfmann responded to questions regarding the asset management program and software upgrades.

In reference to the IT Strategic Plan, Supervisor Bonkowski advised of having “boiled it down to two quotes. The first is, ‘Organizations without an enterprise data architecture supporting standards and staff to support it often attempt to support decision-makers through a cumbersome combination of ad hoc applications, data bases, and spreadsheets. These tools often use data inconsistently, are seldom well-documented, or able to quickly meet new requirements, and eventually become a drain on organizational resources. This can quickly become a worst-case scenario as the total cost of ownership for these ad hoc processes quickly mounts while the return on the organization’s investment decreases.’ That’s the first quote. The second one, I’ll paraphrase, ‘The average worker spends 40 percent of their time managing non-essential documents, and spends 20 percent of their day looking for information in hard copy documents and only finding what they need 50 percent of the time.’

“So this is the conundrum for us lay people who don’t necessarily understand IT. What I understand is that we have a need to both horizontally and vertically integrate our systems across the City. And we need ... horizontal and vertical compatibility, while right-sizing our software and hardware platforms to best meet our specific needs. Is that possible?” Mr. Von Schimmelfmann responded, “We’ll do the best to get there but we do need to integrate across as many platforms as we can.” Supervisor Abowd inquired as to the possibility of “everything ... be[ing] obsolete by the time we get there. ... funding-wise.” Mr. Von Schimmelfmann stated, “That’s why we’re requesting to replace HTE that ... we’ve been using since 1990 ... So, yes, we’re at the point of obsolescence on a lot of this ... and I’ve been trying to push this for many years, bringing it up.” In response to a further question, Mr. Von Schimmelfmann advised that vendors’ “track records” are considered to “see if they can support ... long-term. We try to write it into most of our contracts that they at least support up to five, ten years out. We do look for that.”

Supervisor Barrette inquired as to costs associated with replacing systems. Mr. Von Schimmelfmann advised of having reviewed the original HTE contract “and they piece-mealed it in so that was like $18,000 for a piece back in 1990.” Supervisor Barrette inquired as to current costs, and Mr. Von Schimmelfmann reviewed the costs which had been included in the tentative budget.

Mr. Von Schimmelfmann continued reviewing IT Strategic Plan recommendations, as included in the agenda materials. He responded to corresponding questions of clarification, and discussion ensued. Supervisor Bagwell commended the process, and Mr. Von Schimmelfmann responded to additional questions. Mayor Crowell entertained public comment; however, none was forthcoming.

22(B) POSSIBLE ACTION TO APPROVE THE RECLASSIFICATION OF THE IT MANAGER (M2) AND IT PROJECT LEADER (P3) POSITIONS INTO TWO INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY PROJECT COORDINATOR (P4) POSITIONS THAT WILL ALLOW FOR THE INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY DEPARTMENT TO REORGANIZE TO PROVIDE BETTER CUSTOMER SERVICE (10:43:25) - Mayor Crowell introduced this item, and Chief Information Officer Eric Von Schimmelfmann reviewed the agenda materials. Mayor Crowell entertained questions or comments of the Board members and, when none were forthcoming, of the public. When no public

Member Bonkowski expressed no objection to upgrading the blue line, and reminded “people that we do have an east side historic area ... that I would like to continue to look at including at some point. And I’d like to also look at finding a more permanent solution to the blue line to ... remove the maintenance.” Member Bonkowski advised of having discussed the matter with Public Works Department Director Darren Schulz, who suggested forming a small group to research a long-term solution. Member Bonkowski offered to serve as a member of the small group.

Member Barrette expressed the understanding that the $10,000 allocation for the Reimagine Space Public Art Program is a one-time expenditure, and that items purchased will be housed with the Visitors Bureau and owned by the City.
