I live in the immediate neighborhood of Bordewich Bray Elementary School. Currently, their sign is on Thompson Street facing north and south. If a sign is to be mounted on the building, then likely the North side facing King Street would be the safest relative to traffic and pedestrian flow.

For the majority of parents and the community to see a sign on a regular basis when passing the school, it would need to be double-sided and placed at a 45 degree angle on the Northeast corner of the school property. And even then someone regularly driving only west on King Street would have trouble reading it. The best would be two signs - one facing north on King Street and one facing east on Thompson street. Both mounted to the building.

To whom it may concern:

I received the official notice of public hearing and am writing to submit public comment.

I am in support of the SUP for the 32 square foot digital sign installation proposed for Bordewich Bray Elementary School. I have lived on Mountain Street between Musser and Telegraph since May 1990 and see no issues with installation and use. The current sign with changeable letters installed on the corner of King Street and Thompson Street is antiquated and does not provide enough information to keep families informed.

If you have questions or require further information, please do not hesitate to contact me at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Candi Robles
